

Hazard Management : Risk Awareness

Q: How safe are your employees?

Q: Hazards—what are they?

Q: Want to address the hazards and risks in your workplace?

This award winning safety program provides participants with the knowledge for tackling hazard identification and hazard management in the workplace. Attendees will discover a new way to help fulfill duty of care obligations for the health, safety and welfare of employees under the WA OSH Act.

No more Boring Training! Participants learn from each other in a friendly workshop environment, they 'own what they learn'. This program is well received across all company sectors and sites. It is an engaging, no-nonsense, practical learning course that relates to the work tasks people actually do.

Customised for Organisations

A feature of AVELING's approach is the customisation that meets team or department requirements. For more information please phone to arrange an appointment with one of our consultants without cost or obligation.
