

Safety and Health Representatives

(Refresher)

Overview

Safety and Health Representatives (SHRs) require current knowledge and skills to enable them to effectively promote safety in the workplace and carry out the roles and responsibilities outlined in the relevant legislation.

This course will enable SHRs to update their skills and reinforce the principles outlined in the Safety and Health Representatives (Introductory) course.

Intended for

Existing SHRs wanting to update their knowledge and skills on the latest safety legislation.

Learning Outcomes

- Reinforce objectives outlined in the legislation
- Understand recent legislative amendments and how to apply them in the workplace
- Communicate information on safety and health issues
- Represent employees in matters of safety and health
- Resolve conflict
- Issue Provisional Improvement Notices (PINs) in their role as a SHR

Certification

A Certificate of Participation will be issued at the end of the course.

Prerequisites

Participants must complete the five-day Safety and Health Representatives (Introductory) course before they can attend the Refresher course.
